

Seeing Things Differently...

Echo 1992

We are excited about our new look for the 1992 Echo. Our yearbook is full of surprises. Many changes have occurred this year. It is truly a time of "seeing things differently". Our year began with an administrative change of leadership. Mr. Hunt became the new principal for our high school and Mr. Thompson was assigned the role of new principal at the middle school. These new changes were only a beginning. Our school annual takes on a new character this year in that the high school and middle school yearbooks are now one. Many factors brought about this change, but the main factor was economics. We, the annual staff, are continually making changes to better serve the students of Crawford County School System and we sincerely hope that our new look will allow both schools to enjoy our "Seeing Things Differently" 1992 ECHO.

Seeing Ourselves As Individuals...

We are all individuals. Our differences help to make our lives interesting. Think about the many possibilities.

Me...

Once there was a me,
I call myself a she.
Or maybe I'm a he.
Whatever will, will
be.

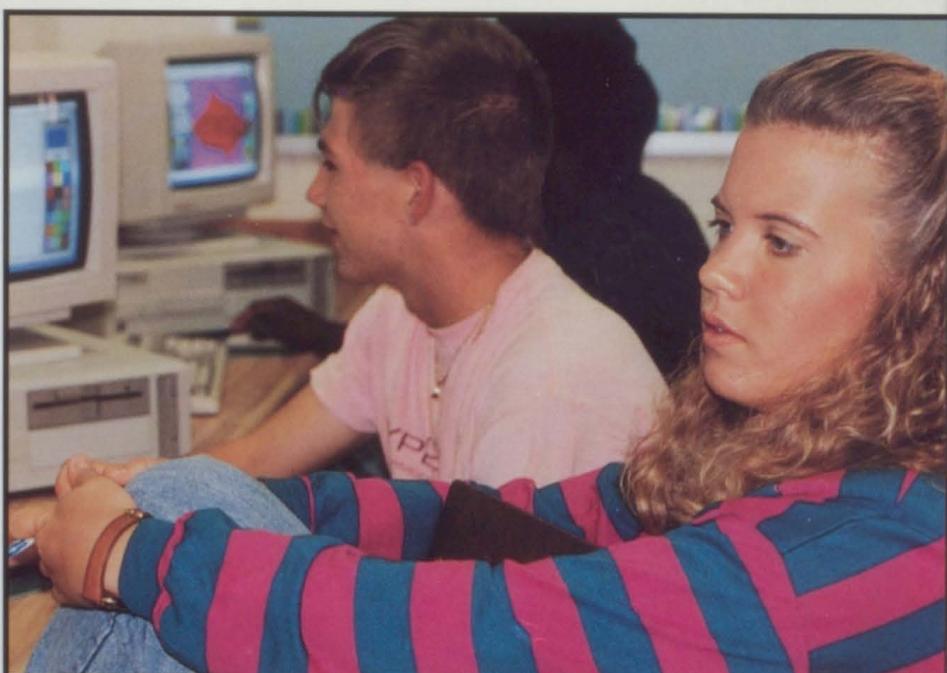

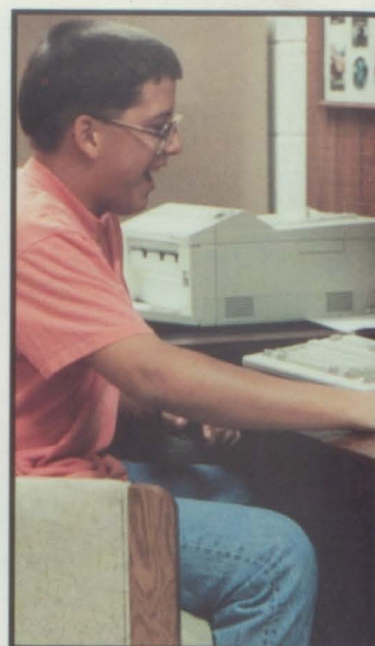

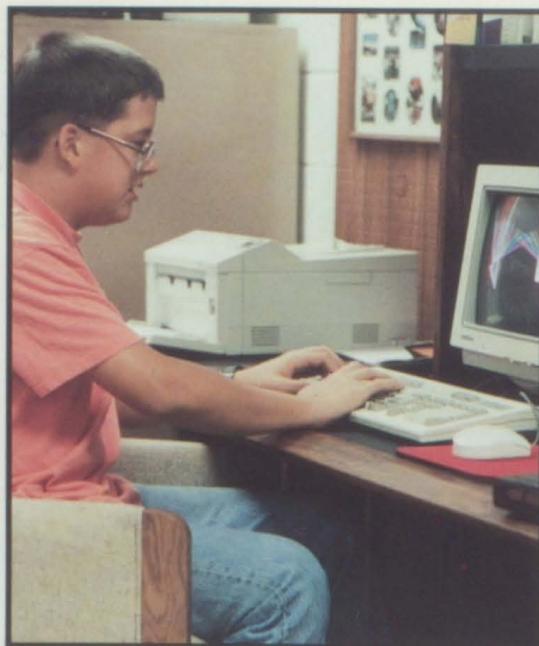

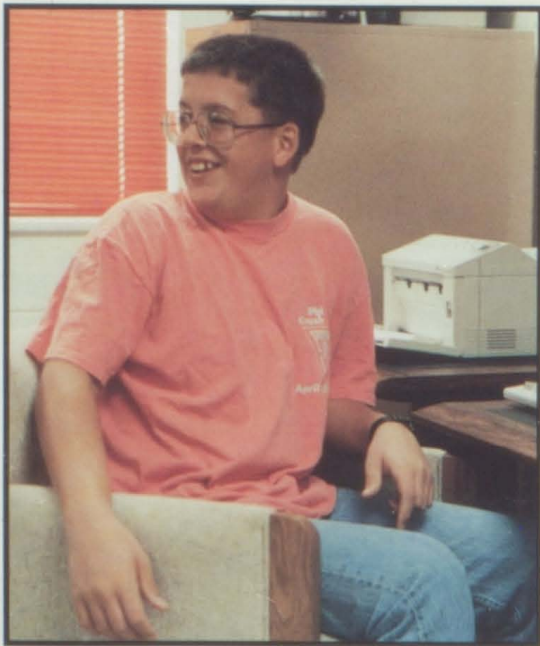

School is where I am,
I sometimes am a
ham.
I like to be unique,
I don't think I'm a freak.

If you think that you
are me,
You very well might
be.
For we all have our own minds,
Along with our own
behinds.

Life is a series of
forks in the road;
Learning in school
can lighten our load.

So let's strive to set
our goals high,
And be different till
the day we die!

Seeing What We Are All About...

It's easy to realize the importance of our education. The difficult part comes in making ourselves strive to be all we can be.

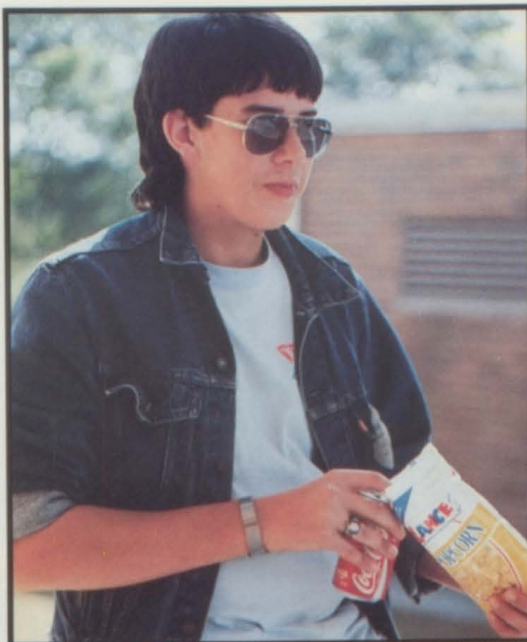

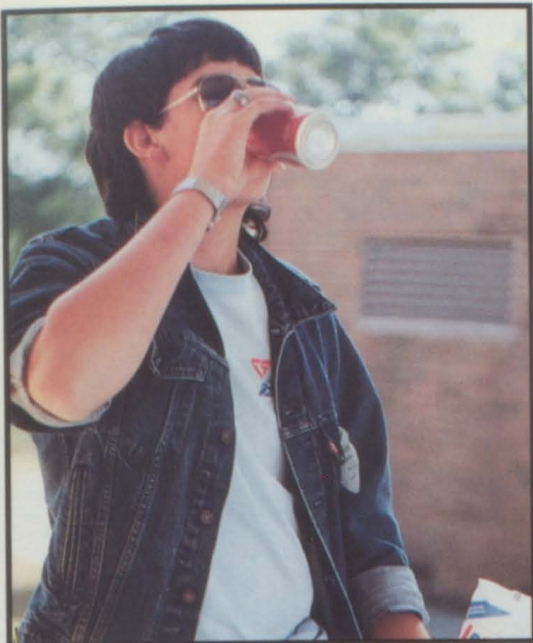

Academics, what is it all about? Many of us attend school each day with a new goal. Some of us never really see what it is actually about. Realizing the importance of a good education is sometimes a lesson that must be learned the hard way. As we reach a point when we are ready to enter the world of work it becomes evident that school had a purpose. Unfortunately the majority of us must then take the responsibility of learning upon ourselves. Our teachers are no longer there to push or motivate us. We must use our talents and reach to accomplish all the things that life has to offer. For the time being, let us enjoy our chance to learn.

Seeing A Time For Laughter...

Laughs make our daily routines easier. Our faces often express our feelings.

"A Smile"

Make yourself a friend today,
Smile at others along
the way,
Let your feelings
begin to show,
So the whole world
will know,
That you are happy
about your day,
And willing to share
your joy this way,
By letting your mouth form that grin,
And keeping that frown from disgrac-
ing your chin.
So let your face shout
out I'm glad,
I'm here today and will not be sad.
I'll keep this look as a message to all,
That smiling is my game and I'm having a ball.

Seeing Ourselves Growing Smarter...

Our abilities, thoughts, questions, and attitudes are forever being shaped by our environment.

Many a day we find ourselves carrying on as students do. We understand that the things that we become involved in are those that will provide us with knowledge. Learning need not be painful. Regardless of the task it is up to us to make it enjoyable and becoming active in the process is the best solution. Learning how to get involved takes practice but once we have conquered our shyness we are indeed ready to tackle any task. Learning can help us "see things differently".

Seeing Our Spirit Grow...

Our students at Crawford County show their spirit in many different ways.

"Cutting it Close"

The bell rings,
The race begins,
Getting to class is an impossible task,
Dash to my locker;
Dodging the masses,
If I don't hurry I'm sure to miss my classes.
Got to the locker it was stuck .
So I said "Only I could have such luck."
Well, I got the locker open but goodness what a mess!
Where's my homework I asked, then I remembered
I've got a test.
I've got to use the bathroom , but I just don't have a pass.
I guess it is off to Mr.
Johnson's class.
I watched that old clock
move terribly slow, knowing all along that I had to go.
The moment draws near
then finally I'm out,
I head toward the bathroom and let out a shout.
My day is nearly over and I can begin to rest, at least until tomorrow and
Mrs. Bassett's test.

Seeing Ourselves Among Others...

It is easy to forget how others affect our lives, but we are constantly reminded of their presence.

Many a day passes by without any seemingly special happenings, but when we are with our special friends at school it is easy to pretend that we are experiencing those times that will be remembered. School lunches, tests, stuck lockers, ringing bells, and all the many activities make each day a little unlike any other. School days will long be special to us and we must not forget that our lives are molded by the interaction with our peers, teachers, and classmates.

Seeing Our Pride Grow...

The eagle is our school's mascot. This great symbol has traditionally stood for our country's spirit. The flag is a reminder of the freedom we all enjoy and cherish.

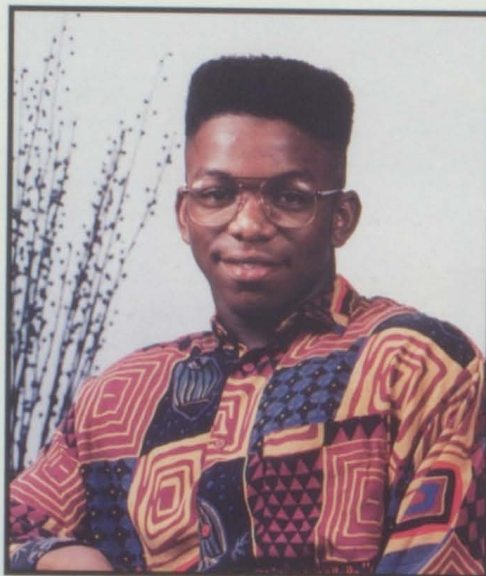

The 1992 Echo is a reflection of our school and its spirit. For some of us this is our final year at Crawford County Comprehensive High School. As we graduate from here we are to remember how our high school careers have molded us into the individuals that we are. Opportunities await. We must move ahead and strive to attain our future goals. It will be long remembered what we have done here. The lessons we have learned have not simply come from books. The special relationships that we have nurtured during our stay here will make lasting memories in the years to come. They will be a constant reminder that the eagle's spirit has helped to form our outlook on life.

Many changes have occurred in our world this year. The Allied Forces have won the Gulf War. The crumble of communism has spread to the USSR. The Atlanta Braves have become legends. Then on the other side of fame, Magic Johnson delivers a shocking announcement. Also, this year, key figures in society have passed away. Good and bad situations in the government have been witnessed. The prospect of world peace is now much clearer. The events happening now, in our world may one day be as important as the discovery of America.

After a close call Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev and his family were placed under house arrest in the Crimea on August 19, 1991, as an eight-man emergency committee led by Vice President Gennady Yanayev took power in a coup attempt in the Soviet Union. Crowds of perplexed people wandered among the many Soviet tanks parked behind the Red Square during the military coup hours. (In background is St. Basil's cathedral).

The Making

Seeing
The Fall Of Communism..

Before dawn on Thursday, August 22, an Aeroflot jet arrived at Vnukovo airport, Moscow, bringing home Gorbachev and his entourage. The coup had failed, and before the day was through, all coup leaders were arrested except for Interior Minister Boris Pugo, who reportedly killed himself.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin waved the white-blue-and-red Russian tri-color flag from the Russian Federation building before a crowd of about 100,000 jubilant supporters celebrating the end of the three-day coup attempt. Bodyguards held bulletproof shields in front of him.

The statue of the founder of the KGB was toppled while thousands of Muscovites watched. Has freedom really come to the Soviet Union.

Firefighters were unprepared for the sight they were met with in Kuwait -- scores of oil wells sending plumes of red and orange flames 30 yards into the air. Oil lakes and soot blackened the sand. During the seven-month Iraqi occupation of Kuwait, more than 730 oil wells were damaged or set ablaze. Firefighting crews have been able to extinguish 584 wells since the effort began in March 1991. When the effort to combat the blazes began in March, it took an average of four days to put out one well fire. Now the teams are averaging 8.5 wells each day, according to oil Minister Hamous al-Rquba. Oil experts say that since the effort continued at the same rate, the wells were capped before the end of the year, earlier than the projected date of March 1992. The faster rate of progress has been attributed to the increase in the number of firefighting companies, the availability of needed equipment, the completion of the water system and the growing experience of the firefighters. Teams from the United States, Canada, China, Iran, Kuwait, Hungary and France are all working together to clean up this environmental disaster.

Seeing An End To The Gulf War...

Desert Storm Commander General H. Norman Schwarzkopf gave a thumbs up to the crowd as he made his way up Broadway during New York's Operation Welcome Home ticker tape parade in June 1991. A fireworks extravaganza capped off the celebration. Schwarzkopf, General Colin Powell and Defense Secretary Dick Cheney were the grand marshals of the New York parade, with over 600,000 people turning out to welcome the soldiers home. More than 1 million people attended a welcome home parade May 19 in Hollywood, and an estimated 800,000 turned out for the parade in Washington.

About 2 million Iraqi Kurds and other minorities fled north in April 1991 when Kurdish rebels in the north and Shiite Muslim rebels in the south failed to oust President Saddam Hussein in the aftermath of the Persian Gulf War. At least 6,700 of the Iraqi refugees died fleeing to the Turkish border. The most common causes of death among the Kurds were diarrhea, respiratory infections and trauma.

After all the twists, turns and tension, the closest of World Series ended in the closest of games. The Minnesota Twins and Jack Morris squeezed past the Atlanta Braves 1-0 on pinch-hitter Gene Larkin's single in the bottom of the 10th inning on October 27, 1991, to win game 7 and end baseball's most dramatic odyssey. Never before had three Series games gone into extra innings, and the Braves and Twins saved the best for last, matching zero for zero, pressure pitch for pitch, even turning back bases loaded threats in the same inning. Someone had to go home a loser, but in everyone's mind there were no losers.

Seeing a Startling Year In Sports...

Magic Johnson, whose beaming smile and sparkling play entertained basketball fans for more than a decade, announced on November 7, 1991, that he had tested positive for the AIDS virus and was retiring.

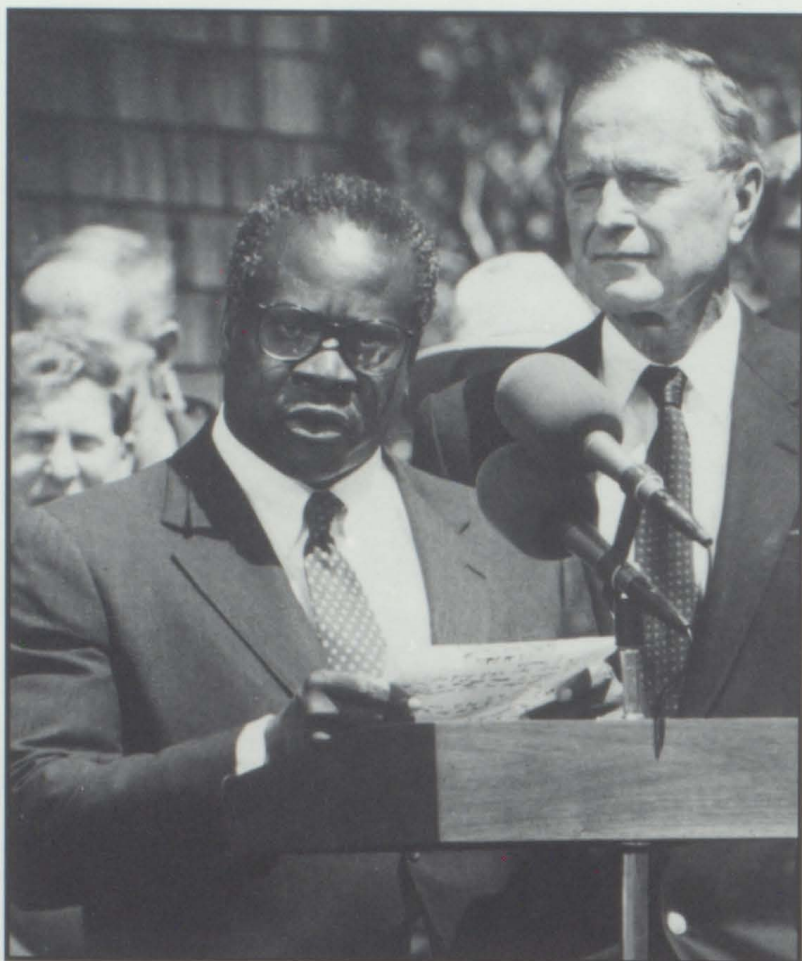

"Because of the HIV virus I have attained, I will have to announce my retirement from the Lakers today," Johnson told reporters at the Forum, where he played for 12 superstar seasons with the Los Angeles Lakers.

"I plan on going on, living for a long time," he said. Johnson said he would become a AIDS activist and campaign for safe sex. More than just a basketball star who led the Lakers to five NBA championships, Johnson has been a philanthropist, a prominent corporate spokesman and a role model for young people. His broad grin, familiar nickname and electrifying ability have made him familiar to people around the world.

"I'm going to go on, I'm going to beat it and I'm going to have fun," he insisted, displaying some of the irrepressible zest for life that he brought daily to the basketball court.

Johnson, whose given name is Earvin, received his nickname from a Lansing, Michigan, sportswriter after a 36-point, 18-rebound, 16-assist performance in high school. Even though Johnson has tested positive for HIV he will be playing in the 1992 Olympic Games.

Forty-three year old Clarence Thomas grew up poor black and a Democrat in Pinpoint, Georgia, but later he switched parties and became a controversial symbol of black conservatism.

"Only in America," Thomas said after President Bush announced his nomination as the second black justice on the Supreme Court. Thomas will succeed Thurgood Marshall who has retired.

Prior to Thomas's nomination to the Supreme Court, he served as an assistant attorney general in Missouri, a legislative assistant to Sen. John Danforth, seven years as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and a judge of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

In addition to the controversy of Thomas's legal views, a charge of sexual harassment was brought against him by law professor Anita Hill. Thomas vehemently denied the allegations and said, "This is Kafkaesque. Enough is enough."

After much debate over who was right and who was wrong - Clarence Thomas, Anita Hill, the system itself - the United States Senate voted to confirm him.

On October 18, 1991, Clarence Thomas became the 106th United States Supreme Court Justice.

Life has not been the same for law professor Anita Hill since going public with allegations that Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas sexually harassed her nearly a decade ago.

Hill was valedictorian of her high school in 1973 and went on to Oklahoma State University as a National Merit Scholar, graduating in 1977 with a degree in Psychology. From there she went to Yale University to receive a law degree in 1980. Most friends and colleagues described her in the same way - - honest, sincere and a principled person.

Although Thomas was confirmed, professor Hill insisted that by letting her story be known she had accomplished everything she set out to do. "All that's happened has made the general public much more aware of sexual harassment than ever before," said Hill.

She offered one piece of advice to victims of sexual harassment. "Try to find somebody you can trust and tell them," she said, "try to find somebody who can help make you feel that you are not at fault. Find someone you can trust because you can't take it all out on yourself, you can't internalize it."

Seeing A Beginning

And An End...

A sealed structure of steel and glass will be "home" for two years to four men four women. The structure, called Biosphere 2, is about the size of 2 1/2 football fields and contains all necessities of life. For two years, nothing will be introduced from outside. In addition to eight humans, Biosphere 2 houses 3,800 species of animals and plants and five ecosystems. This $100 million project has taken seven years to put together and hopes to be the model for other self-sufficient environments. Planets other than Earth may one day be the base for similar structures. Both participants and backers of the Biosphere 2 maintain that the project will provide significant data.

From children's books to politics, from entertainment to news, these were the faces we came to know and trust. They may be gone but the changes they brought to the world will not be forgotten.

Faculty, & Staff

C. Eugene "Gene" Trammell

Superintendent Of Schools

Crawford County School System

This year is proving to be one of tremendous challenge. Schools are faced with adversity on all fronts. Newspapers are filled with such headlines as budgetary crisis looms, students are poorly prepared, schools fail, and SAT scores dropped. The truth is that these are problems of education today, but they can become tremendous opportunities for us if we will take advantage of the situation. These problems force us to see things in a different light. They force us to re-evaluate ourselves and our jobs.

As students, you must refuse to accept mediocrity. You must confront this with teachers, peers, and yourself. We have all been content with "pretty good". We can no longer afford for this to be our criteria for evaluation. Charles Osgood in a recent article sums up "pretty good" in a way that strikes at each of us. There once was a pretty good student, who sat in a pretty good class and was taught by a pretty good teacher, who always let pretty good pass.

He wasn't terrific at reading, he wasn't a whiz-bang at math. But for him, education was leading straight down a pretty good path.

He didn't find school too exciting, but he wanted to do pretty well, and he did have some trouble with writing, and nobody taught him to spell. When doing arithmetic problems, pretty good was regarded as fine. Five plus five need not always add up to be ten, a pretty good answer was nine.

The pretty good class that he sat in was part of a pretty good school. And the student was not an exception, on the contrary, he was the rule. The pretty good school that he went to was there in a pretty good town. And nobody there seemed to notice he could not tell a verb from a noun. The pretty good student in fact was part of a pretty good mob. And the first time he knew what he lacked was when he looked for a pretty good job.

It was then, when he sought a position, he discovered that life could be tough. And soon he had a sneaky suspicion pretty good might not be good enough.

The pretty good town in our story was part of a pretty good state, which had pretty good aspirations, and prayed for a pretty good fate. There once was a pretty good nation, pretty proud of the greatness it had, which learned much too late, if you want to be great, pretty good is, in fact, pretty bad. "The Osgood File", 1966, CBS, Inc.

As teachers and administrators, we must refuse to be content with pretty good or simply maintaining the "status quo". We must see things differently. We must seize the opportunity to be better than we are and move from the mundane to the magnificent.

Central Office

Marsha Hyer

Marsha Hyer has been the head of special education since 1982. As a child she wanted to be many things, but being an attorney stood out most of all. She sees more enthusiasm in the school this year. After retirement she plans to travel.

Cindy Hunt

The Curriculum director for the last four years has been Cindy Hunt. As she was growing up she wanted to be a teacher, she got it! She has no real plans for life after retirement. This year she notices more unity in the schools.

Arnita Harris

David Hunt

Coming to Crawford County High School has been an experience I will not soon forget. I count myself very fortunate to be in a situation where I have known so many of you as elementary and middle school students, because now I will get to be with you as you grow to adulthood -- an exciting, intriguing and sometimes agonizing process. I have also met some new faces and personalities that help make my job one of the most interesting and challenging around. As I watch you grow, change and eventually leave to "take on the world," I sincerely hope that you continue to learn for the rest of your lives. Of course, most of the learning will not come from books, and most of it will not be easy, but make the best of the lessons of life and, not only will you always be learning -- you will always be growing.

Charlie Willis

Charlie Willis has been teaching for the last twenty years. As he grew in to adulthood he wanted to be either a physical therapist or a coach. He also notices many changes in the way things are relaxed and less structured than last year. Everything seems to be in a state of uncertainty with the new principal.

Rita Marable

Rita Marable has been in education for twenty-two years. When she was a child, her dream was to be rich when she became an adult. Rita sees things in a different way, "I see the faculty more determined to educate the students and also make school more enjoyable for them."

Guidance And Secretaries

Sue Thornton

Sue Thornton has been our guidance counselor here at Crawford County for twenty years. Her childhood dream was to marry Micky Mantle on home plate at Yankee Stadium. She also tells us, "I am having more fun with the seniors this year, than ever!"

Betty Benjamin

Betty Benjamin has been Sue Thornton's secretary for the last five years. She has tried her hand at many other careers, and decided to stick with this job for a while. This year has been more challenging for her, but she has stayed with it.

Betty Cochran

Most of us know Betty Cochran as the person handling the everyday happenings at Crawford County High. She believes students have opportunity for new beginnings. We all need to slow down and take time to realize our opportunities.

Edwina Hortman

Edwina Hortman has been here for fifteen years. As a child she took piano lessons. She added that she sees differently this year, "Each generation seems to be different."

Virginia Cochran

Helping out at Crawford County Schools for the last thirteen years, has been Virginia Cochran. Helper to the faculty and friend to the students she has done a great deal of work this year. As a child she had a unique dream, she wanted to be a nun.

Gail Stancile

Gail Stancile has been helping us out here at Crawford for fourteen years. As a child she dreamed of being an actress, but as a teacher each year is "same old, same old."

Mary Beth Harrah

As one of our favorite substitute teachers Mary Beth Harrah has been here only four years. Her childhood aspiration was to be a nurse.

English Department

Ruth Joyner

Ruth Joyner has been teaching here for twelve years. As a child she loved books, teachers, and her friends; she wanted to be Calvin's wife. Ruth Joyner teaches many of us to write most excellently, and may very well achieve Literary Immortality.

Mary Carson

Mary Carson has been teaching for thirteen years. To many she is known as the feared English teacher. She believes that the ninth grade class, with much work, can become the best class ever.

Debra Waugh

Four years ago Debra Waugh began teaching. As one of this school's English teachers, she has found many ways for her students to excel in various subjects. Her early dreams made her out to be a writer, but now she is helping others to be what she wanted to be.

Betsy Wiley

Betsy Wiley has been a teacher for five years. When she grew up she wanted to be a veterinarian. The things that she sees differently is a larger student body.

Math Department

Patricia Bassett

Patricia Bassett has been a teacher for thirty-two years. She thinks that this year has been different because the students are not as enthusiastic.

Lula Greene

Lula Greene has been teaching here for thirty-four years, some of us have parents she has taught. She has fulfilled her dream of becoming a teacher. this year she says the students have gotten more interesting.

Agnes Stewart

Agnes Stewart is a Project Success Math and Algebra teacher at Crawford County. She has been here for four years. She says she did not expect to be a teacher. She also claims that there is a loss of time.

Science Department

Peggy Kendrick

Peggy Kendrick has been teaching for fifteen years. She likes to work with animals and children. She thinks that this year more has gone on and there's more involvement with education.

Jerry Walker

Jerry Walker put his statement bluntly that he has been here "a long time", and the students have gotten crazier. Jerry Walker also said while he was growing up he did not want to grow up. Well his youth has not left him yet. If we do not learn anything from him we have learned "fair" only comes once a year.

B.J. Bassett

B.J. Bassett has been involved in education for the last thirty-two years. B.J. assumes a new responsibility towards students in his classroom instead of the whole student body, this year.

Social Studies

Tony Byram

Tony Byram has been a teacher for nine years. As a child he wanted to grow up to be a pro baseball player. The thing he sees differently is the school spirit is stronger.

Aaron Lively

Aaron B. Lively has been a teacher for thirty-six years. When he was a boy he wanted to be a medical doctor when he grew up. He feels that the student behavior is not as disciplined as before and that there is disrespect in the underclassmen. He also thinks the students are adjusting well to a new principal.

Margaret Harvey

Margaret Harvey is beginning her twentieth year of teaching. As she was growing up she dreamed of becoming a social worker. She sees differently this year that the discipline on students has gotten lighter, and the faculty has less tension around them.

Art

Pam Perry

Pam Perry has been an art teacher for twelve years. As she was growing up she always wanted to be an art teacher; and she is very good at it. She believes that the students' attitudes are different this year.

Project Success

Nedra
Duhart

For nine years Nedra Duhart has been a teacher. As a small girl she aspired to be a movie star, she also played the piano. "This year the students are requiring a different style of teaching," she added with a smile.

Star Program

Sandra
O'Neal

For the last ten years Sandra O'Neal was a substitute teacher, and is now the SERC teacher. Her childhood ambition was to be a nurse, but she settled for a teacher. She also says she sees little to no difference this year.

Reading

John Douglas

John Douglas has been teaching for four years. He wanted to be a Beatle when he was young. The only thing different he notices is his relaxed homeroom.

Health

Julia Little

Julia Little has been a teacher for the last ten years. She teaches health at the high school and physical education at the middle school. When she was younger she studied to be a nurse and a teacher.

Music And Band

Donald Clark

Donald Clark has been teaching for five years but this is his first year at Crawford County. Here he teaches band and chorus, and he has always wanted to be a musician. His goal for this year was to make the band function as a whole.

Interrelated

Anita Jackson

Anita Jackson has been in the career of teaching for twelve years. Her childhood goal was to just be happy with life. The things she thought were different this year were the positive attitudes in both the students and the teachers.

Jansa Hobbs

Since 1984 Jansa Hobbs has been a teacher. She teaches interrelated classes. Her childhood aspiration was to be a veterinarian. She noticed there are more students this year.

Business Education

Joyce Key

Joyce Key has been teaching for thirty-one years. She teaches typing. Her childhood aspiration was to have her own business and to be able to build or construct things. Joyce Key sees a difference in the school year because the past problems between students and teachers are being handled differently.

Mike Johnson

Mike Johnson has been teaching for fourteen years. As a child Mike dreamed of being an architect. What he sees differently is that an annual staff class has been installed into the school curriculum.

Randy Robinson

Randy Robinson has been coaching and teaching for six years. As a child Randy dreamed of being a pro- football player or the host of a hunting show. Randy says there is more school spirit this year and there seems to be a more relaxed atmosphere.

Home Economics

Rita Marable

Rita Marable has been in education for twenty-two years. When she was a child, her dream was to become rich when she became an adult. She sees things in a different way, "I see the faculty more determined to educate students and also make school more enjoyable for them."

Agriculture

Hugh Lanier

Hugh Lanier has been teaching for two years. This is Hugh's first year teaching agriculture at Crawford County. When he was a child, Hugh's dream was to become a teacher.

Health Occupations

Debbie Evans

Debbie Evans has been teaching for ten years. As a child Debbie wanted to become a medical doctor, but Debbie did not think she was smart enough. (But we all know better.) This year Debbie says she sees more gray hairs and less sanity.

Support Services

Carolyn Mathews

Since 1953 Carolyn Mathews has been school associated. While growing up the only thing she wanted to be . . . not a school teacher. In Carolyn's eyes, not much has changed this past school year.

Mike Cambell

Mike Cambell has been teaching for twelve years. As a child Mike wanted to become a teacher or a principal. This year Mike sees more school spirit than ever before.

Virginia Willis

Virginia Willis sees less students in IHS this year because their behavior has seemed to improve. She wanted to be a doctor rather than a teacher, but she has been teaching for the last twenty-two years.

Barbara McGee

Barbara McGee has been teaching for sixteen years and this year she says that things are easier and laid back. When Barbara was a little girl she wanted to be a singer when she grew up. Barbara McGee's favorite after school activity is working with the cheerleaders.

Thanks

Without the help of the lunchroom staff and the building maintenance staff Crawford County High School could not function properly. They cook our meals and clean our rooms with very little thanks from the students but you don't hear them complain. They put in many hours with little pay for the work they do.

Seeing things differently on our currency...

Wouldn't it be interesting to see our high school teachers on currency? Imagine the constant reminder of them each time you reached into your pocket. Would that be good or bad? Every student knows that the teachers would probably enjoy this type of acknowledgment. Yet, the on going remembrance of a failed grade or hated subject would not be enjoyable for the student. There is as much good in this fantasy as bad, but for now we think everyone is content with looking at presidents.

STAR Student

The criteria for the selection of the STAR teacher states that he should be the teacher who has made the most outstanding contribution to my scholastic development. It is not hard to see that Mr. Johnson easily fulfilled this requirement.

Since the ninth grade, he has not only been a teacher of mine, but also a friend whom I could depend on. I have learned many times more from this one man than from any other teacher. In addition to lessons about computers and academics, he also taught hard lessons about life and the future for all of us. Everytime I came into his room he had something new to show me. I believe I can truly say I learned something new every day I attended his classes.

Mr. Johnson is also the kind of person who has stood by me through thick and thin. Over the years we had a few disagreements but we never failed to emerge as friends. He has also stood by me through all of the competitions I attended even though I failed to win.

Over the last four years, Mr. Johnson has been a wonderful teacher and invaluable friend. He has had a definite impact on me both as a student and as a person. I can honestly say I would not be the same if I had never met him.

Matt Hortman

& Teacher

though he tried very hard to explain Mr. Johnson seemed technique of sending humans through space by activation of a Johnson in a state of shock. Matt later "regrouped" and decided

One way in which our school year has been different is that each day began with a "Thought For The Day". As I reflect on Matt Hortman's four years in my Computer Technology classes several famous quotes come to mind ...

First: "The greatest undeveloped territory in the world lies under your hat."

Matt may be perceived by some of his peers as having a head "stuffed full" of knowledge. How wrong they are ... Matt has never been shy about learning. His constant eagerness to learn is proof that he has yet to "overfill" his cranium. My guess is that he will always make an effort to develop that territory.

Second: "The aim of education is to enable man to continue his learning."

As Matt's teacher, I have learned that learning has come full circle. Four years ago I was able to sit down beside Matt and help him to learn about computers. He was a freshman in age but even then it was obvious that he loved a challenge worthy of any senior. In his sophomore and junior years I recall our many conversations of computers ... and other things. I truly had to study hard to keep up! And now to the senior year. I have learned to simply "cut Matt loose". I have become the student. I sincerely believe it is the best feeling a teacher can have.

Third: "If you never stick your neck out, you'll never get your head above the crowd."

Matt's accomplishments have been many. I remember his participation in Governor's Honors; his competing in F.B.L.A. at state conventions; his extra-curricular activities; and his efforts in producing computer camps. But above all the excellent grades; I remember most of all the way Matt would "stick out that neck", always wanting that harder program and more difficult project. The words "make it tough" were attached to all of Matt's requests for new assignments.

Matt has truly been an excellent student but I thank him most for bringing me a "vitamin a day" - (his enthusiasm). It has helped to make my days special. Matt has taken the word "job" out of teaching. I wish him much success.

To Meredith McGregor

*God gave us a gift we've loved from the beginning,
All eight pounds, fourteen ounces of you.
And we watched you grow into an active little girl*

*Who thought she was grown at two!
We listened as you spun the tale of Dee Dee,
Your imaginary friend,
And laughed with you as we shared the book
Of Brer Rabbit to the end.*

*We enjoyed the giggles shared with friends
At birthday party sleepovers.*

*And we got you your first dog, Lee Wong,
Because every child should have a 'Rover'.
We thank Granddad for pulling your first tooth*

*While Dad was out of town,
Although you looked funny as a toothy
Brownie
Dressed up in your "browns".*

*Then all of a sudden you were a teen
And there were phone calls and more phone calls,*

*About boys, movies, songs, football, and
Most important - shopping at the Mall.
Then you went to work at Giant Mart
And a lot of responsibility you showed.
You started growing up before our eyes,
And made our pride in you glow.*

*Now you face the "Grown-up" World
After you wear your cap and gown.
We pray God will give you a guiding hand
As to college your bound.*

*Just remember as you go through this life
No matter what at you it hurls,
You'll always have two supports in your world,*

*Remember: you're Momma and Daddy's first
"little girl".*

*Love,
Mom and Dad*

Monica,

This is the year of endings and the year of many new beginnings. As a beautiful young flower in the spring, you've brought such joy to our lives.

May you continue to blossom thru life's seasons.

Our wish for you is success and happiness in your endeavors eternal.

*We love you.
Mom & Pop*

Wendy Scarborough,

From the day of your birth, you have been the apple of you Daddy's eye and the light of my life. With such pride, we have watched you grow and mature into a beautiful Christian lady. As you prepare for your future and find your place in society, Daddy and I will continue to support you with our prayers and love. Good luck and congratulations!!

*We love you,
Daddy & Mama*

Tammie,

As a baby you gave so much love to everyone around you. It doesn't seem you should have any left, but eachday we see you grow we find you have more and more love to share. You are a very loving daughter, sister and friend. Daddy and I pray every night giving thanks to God for sending us a special gift named Tammie. Thank you so much for all your love, caring, friendship. We are so very proud of you. With God's help, we know you will choose the best road to travel now that you are going to college. Remember He loved as you do and will watch over you - Just ask.

*With all our love and respect,
Moma, Daddy,
April & Terry Lee*

Dear Bonnie,(My Little Monkey)

It's hard to express how much these past eighteen years have meant to us. You have always been our little girl, so loving and caring about everyone.

Now you are our beautiful young lady and we are so proud of you. We know you are going to be married soon and will be away for awhile, but our thoughts and prayers will be with you. We're not losing a daughter but gaining a son.

*Love Always,
Mark, Mama & Michelle*

*Keeli,
We're so thankful God gave us someone to bring sunshine into our lives . . . Someone who takes ordinary moments and turns them into joy . . .
Some one who must have created the word happiness . .
. We're so glad He gave us you!*

*We love you,
Pam, Jay, Colby,
Glorilyn, Buster
& Ashley*

There are all kinds of friends of course...

People we meet throughout the years who share various experiences with us. Most of these relationships are pleasant and meaningful in their own way, but they're not like the deep friendship you and I share.

We share a history and we share a future, too.

We care about what the days, months, and years ahead hold for each of us.

So for all of your listening, advising, caring and understanding...

For letting me be the real me...

for letting me get to know the real you...

I just want to say "Thank you".

I don't know what I'd ever do without you.

You are a very special friend.

Wendy Scarborough

Keeli Jackson

Best Friends Forever!

Samantha,

As I look back over the past few years .I realize how hard it has been for you. There were times I feared you would give up, but you didn't, you continued against many odds. No words to tell you how proud I am of you. Thank you for all the happiness you have brought into my life. I hope Cody brings you as much joy as you brought me. He will be able to look back on this and tell his children he saw his mommy graduate.

Your father and I looked forward to this day, and even though he isn't with us I know he is looking down from heaven with pride.

*Love,
Mama, Daddy
& Cody*

*Jay, Success
in your

For the year 1991-92 the CCCHS Mob has been working to install in the minds of young people the knowledge that they will need when they take their first step into the real world. The ring leaders Big Daddy Dave and Big Papa Frank have been working to gain control of the young minds of our friends and neighbors. They hope to control all of Crawford County one day. The Mob Central secretaries Cochran and Hortman get their orders from the leaders and pass the information to the "Flash." The "Flash" then passes on the information to the teachers, even the ones we think we can trust. All the Bookkeeping that is done for Big Daddy Dave and Big Papa Frank is done by Mathews, their "Bookie." Apparently Thornton, "The Persuader," has been trying to influence the seniors to get into the best colleges. Once inside a college these "puppets" start working on converting college students to join the CCCHS Mob. The Hitmen always take care of the problems that arise with the unwilling students. These are just some of the Mob's merry little gang, so be on the look out, they could come after you next.

The VICA Club is open to all students enrolled in DCT, Construction or Health Occupations. VICA is an integral component of the Vocational class and helps prepare students for the work force and post secondary schools. One of the highlights of the VICA Club is the Skill Olympics. Every year students compete against other high school students in their area of expertise, such as Nurse Assistant, Carpentry and Auto Mechanics. The contests consist of five levels-area, district, state, national and international. CCCHS has done well in these Olympics in the past and is expecting great success in the future. VICA participants support school and community activities. This year the VICA Club won first place with their float in the Homecoming Parade. Each year VICA decorates the lunchroom for Christmas and other holidays. Roberta Nursing Home, OAC, and Headstart have all benefited from community projects in VICA. In February, VICA participated in Vocational Week, with special activities that promote Vocational Education. Such as displays, Student Appreciation Day, Teacher Appreciation Day, posters, articles, and safety contests. Special Events: Vocational Drive; Sweetheart Dance; Fund-raisers; Tom Watt.

The Future Business Leaders of America is the national organization for all young adults in high school who enroll in business programs. The organization operates as an integral part of the school program under the guidance of school administrators, business teachers, businessmen, and supervisory personnel with the State Department of Education.

The activities of the Future Business Leaders of America provide an opportunity for business students to prepare for business and office occupation. Members of FBLA learn how to engage in individual and group business enterprises; how to hold office and direct the affairs of the group; how to work with representatives of other youth organizations; and how to complete honorably with their colleagues on the local, state, and national leadership conferences, visits to other chapters and to business and industrial enterprises, and close contact successful businessmen and women.

FBLA's acceptance as an organization of value for the students is evidenced by the fact that it is on the Approved List on National Contests and Activities of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals.

A headquarters office is maintained in Washington, D.C. The FBLA Board of Directors established FBLA policies in line with the vocational needs of business and office education students.

Local and state chapters of FBLA operate under charters granted by FBLA-PBL, Incorporated. Each chapter, with its own constitution, adopts projects and programs within the framework of the National organization.

This year high school has started a new organization, Students Against Driving Drunk, better known as S.A.D.D., which has taken the place of Arrive Alive. S.A.D.D.'s main goal is to stop Drinking and Driving among high school students. This is the first time a S.A.D.D. Program has been tried in Crawford County. We sponsored the Contract For Life Signing and the Red Ribbon Campaign before Christmas. S.A.D.D.'s Contract for Life aims at involving parents in our fight against drinking and driving. Basically, when the contract is signed, the student promises not to drink and drive and the parent agrees to come and get his or her child anytime the student has been drinking and should not drive. By doing this, parents are saying, that they are more concerned about their child's immediate safety than with placing blame. Questions will be asked after the student is home. It is a goal of our CCCHS chapter of S.A.D.D. To involve our parents in the formation of a MADD organization in Crawford County. S.A.D.D. Members believe that they can make a difference in their peers attitudes and goals.

Charlie Frank Willis

Athletic Director

Crawford County School System

This year has been another great year for athletics at Crawford County Comprehensive High School. We are proud of our teachers, coaches, and talented student athletes who have worked hard to keep up a winning tradition. At CCCHS, we have always believed in and supported scholar athletes who compete in our athletic programs. These young students must maintain high levels of performance in the classroom, as well as on the athletic fields and courts. As I look back through the hour-glass of time, I can see today's athlete faced with many problems that did not exist for the athlete of the past. As I gaze into the future, I can see changes that must be made if we are to continue to progress in an ever changing society.

A few years ago, students only had to pass three of their six classes in order to participate. (Many athletes ended up in college and even in the pros, yet, they could not read a book. They could only read a defense.) To upgrade the athletic program, the "no pass, no participation" ruling became effective which has had a significant impact on sports at all levels because athletes have to conform to a different set of criteria. They no longer have to pass just three class, but five out of six classes. Scholastic and achievement testing/evaluations are now major factors. All students are having to pass from the kindergarten through the twelfth grade. Students are even having to score higher SAT and ACT, plus maintain a higher GPA in order to get into college which challenges athletes today.

Because of changes in our society, drug testing has become another issue. This era has seen great athletes fall victims to drugs. Now, drug testing is administered at the college and professional levels. In the future, I see drug testing administered at the high school level because there is a need for assurance that our athletes are not participating in the use of illegal drugs. We have seen a great athlete become a victim of a sexually transmitted disease which warrants a greater need for more sex education.

I see a need for athletes to become more concerned about their bodies, about what goes into them, a need for more discipline-self discipline on the part of the athlete, and a need for business leaders and educators to get together to bring about some of the changes and to stop procrastinating about where problems lie. We need to stop fighting as parents and educators in order to come together to accomplish these needed goals with our students and our athletes.

As I take a final gaze into the future, I can see beyond the football fields, baseball fields, track fields, basketball courts, and tennis courts. I can see our athletes being prepared and having met the challenges of their every day living. Above all I can see them in the future as winners, not losers in the game of life.

1991 - 92 Varsity Eagle Football Team

Our 1991 season was disappointing as far as wins and loses, but was a success as far as the effort put forth by our boys. Going up against a schedule that included three top ten teams, the Eagles maintained a "never say die" attitude and played some good football in the process. The Eagle motto this year was "Winning is not everything; but the desire to win is the only thing". The Eagles kept the desire and the attitude of winners all year long. We are proud of our young men.

Cheerleading Can be Fun!!!

Cheerleaders serve as a support group for the interscholastic athletic program within our school. They strive to boost school spirit, promote good sportsmanship, develop good positive crowd involvement, and help athletes to become the best they can be, both on and off the court. Cheerleaders, being the most recognizable representatives of our school, are in positions of positive influence; therefore high standards of conduct such as positive personal behavior and squad cohesiveness must be met. We are proud of our 1991-92 Basketball cheerleading squad that included five freshmen- Nicole Baggett, Melanie Boyer, Nakia Gibson, Cassandra Jackson, Melessa Lockett; four juniors- Dionne Blasingame (captain), Makeba Dennis, Kesha Howard, and Nikki Willis. Hieatha Thomas was the manager and Mrs. Margaret T. Harvey was the sponsor.

For several years there has been no Homecoming parade. This years' parade brings it back and we hope that it will continue in the years to come.

Spirits were high at this years' Homecoming bonfire.

Hopes were high as we submitted this model of the proposed new Crawford County Middle School, but after the state reviewed the plans they informed us a few changes which had to be made. We did not know quite what they meant, but after further review of our proposed budget we discovered a decimal was wrongly placed.

Crawford County Middle School

Congratulations to a wonderful group of people -- the faculty, staff and students of Crawford County Middle School! You are experiencing many changes and yet you continue to perform in such an excellent manner. The combining of both schools in one annual is a change; having a new principal is a change; locating to a new facility is a change; and adjusting to a middle school program is a change. But you prove yourself equal to every challenge and make me proud to be a part of this school and community.

My overall goal this year has been to build a sense of "family" here at CCMS. We are important to each other and need each other. This attitude will enable us to meet every challenge as we reach personal and group goals. I am excited about what we have done together and what we will do in the future.

Robert Thompson

Seeing The Old Once More...

The students at Crawford County Middle School realize that changes are ahead. Our old building will soon be only a memory.

"A Closer Look"

At first glance, the building does not seem any different. The roof leaks, the heat comes on sporadically and the old wood floors still squeak. But, if you look at the building through the eyes of one not being in it next year, then things do look different. Where buckets use to catch leaking rain, Ms. Owen has her plants getting watered. The heaters now play tunes instead of just banging. And the squeaking floors will soon no longer announce a teachers approach. Not only does the building look different, but the students have changed. They are no longer the shy fifth graders who do not know how to open a locker, but eighth graders who do not take home any of their books to study for two tests. The student who can first participate in the band in the sixth grade is now a member of the eighth grade who has the noise capacity to break glass. Seventh graders who long for the day they can be on the eighth grade hall have become eighth graders who cannot stay off the seventh grade hall. And among all these classes are a group of students who scored among the highest in the state on the Standardized Test. A mixture of old and new and forever changing.

Seeing Ourselves Among Others...

It is easy to forget how others affect our lives, but we are constantly reminded of their presence.

"Thinking..."

Sitting in the classroom
staring at the wall.
Hoping that the ceiling doesn't start to fall. Listening to the teacher
explaining all the rules
Thinking to myself,
"Does she take me for a fool?"

I've heard it all before,
and I probably will again
But I'll quickly forget them,
When I've committed a sin.
So I'll just sit and ponder
All the things to do
And smile and make her wonder
Will this day ever get through!

Seeing Ourselves As Winners...

This year has been a winning season for us all, both in our academics and our activities.

Letting Our Pride Show...

This year's Crawford County Middle School cheerleaders really had something to cheer about. The middle school football team won their games against Taylor, Jones, and Tri County, and tied Central - Talbotton. Coach Campbell and Coach Crutchfield are to be commended for doing an outstanding job with this year's seventh and eighth grade boys.

Middle School Administration & Faculty

Robert Thompson

The journey of life has carried Robert Thompson down several roads. He said he has always enjoyed working with young people. They tend to see things differently and it helps him to keep from getting closed in to one perspective.

Robert Downs

I planned to major in forestry in college, but later switched my major to education. My experiences from forestry are appropriate for education; people are people!

Guidance And Secretaries

Denise Land

Denise Land has been the guidance counselor's secretary for thirteen years. She sees more different problems arising now than when she began. She is always eager to help students with their problems.

Arah C. Moore

Arah Moore has been the school counselor for the last fifteen years. There is definitely a difference in terms of the complexities for all our likes -- making it vital to learn and implement effective coping skills. In her leisure time, (hah!) Mrs. Moore enjoys singing, interior decorating, crafting and other activities akin to the arts.

Ruth Moncrief

Ruth Moncrief has worked seven years as a Library Clerk at the Elementary School, fourteen years as secretary at the Middle School, and she is looking forward to being promoted to the High School, and maybe one day graduating.

Para-Professionals & Aides

Media Center Personnel

Shyrell Owen

For the last five years Shyrell Owen has been Media Specialist at the Middle School. "I have completely enjoyed every minute and especially the people in the middle school."

Barbara Green

I was a substitute for three years before I became a para-professional for Special Education. The only difference for me is I'm closer to the students because of my being there every day.

Donna Meadows

She has been an assistant in the library one year. She also is a full time bus driver.

Glenda Sanders

For the last few years, Glenda has been driving the bus back and forth to Macon. This year she's working in the classroom with the middle school students.

English Department

Elizabeth Thames

Elizabeth Thames has been teaching English fifteen years. As a teenager her ambition was to become an attorney but she settled for a family and later for a teaching career. She thinks that there is much potential in this class.

Tyrone Lucas

Tyrone Lucas has been teaching for one year. As a small boy he aspired to be a professional football player. Since this is his first year teaching the things he sees differently compared to his school days are the students lack of caring and interest in school activities.

Rose Thompson

Rose Thompson got her degree in education but did not intend to teach. When she began her student teaching she fell in love with the classroom. "I try to help the students see things differently. I show them that the differences they have are what makes life interesting. If we were all the same it would be boring. I hope I can teach for a long time."

Janice Harris

Because each child is "fearfully and wonderfully made", they quickly teach educators that "seeing things differently" is perfectly all right, acceptable and even expected.

Math Department

Jo Cronin

Jo Cronin has been a math teacher at the middle school for ten years. Her ambition as a young girl was to have a career in medicine or engineering. She also played the piano. Different approaches to teaching and learning are necessary to equip students for future technological society.

Vicki Wheeler

For four years Vicki Wheeler has been a teacher in Crawford County. The biggest difference this year has been in the relaxed attitude of the students.

Linda Hutcheson

Beginning her teaching career with first graders, Linda Hutcheson switched to educating the middle school students. She says she has definitely been "seeing things differently" for the last five years. Given a choice, however, she prefers the middle grades.

Science Department

Jenette C. Beard

For twenty-five years Jenette C. Beard has been a teacher in Crawford County School System. As a small girl she wanted to be a nurse. This year she became an in school probation officer.

Cynthia Dickey

Cynthia Dickey taught in Crawford County for eleven years, and each year she finds ways of motivating her students by being totally different.

Marilyn Tillman

Marilyn Tillman has been teaching for two years. During childhood, her ambition was to become a nurse or an airline stewardess. Since becoming a teacher, she sees the classroom very different from what she anticipated it to be.

Social Studies

John Prue

Teaching at the middle school for this seventeenth year has been very different. Middle school students desire much more contact and attention than high school students I have taught.

Gregg Banks

Gregg Banks has been teaching for three years at the middle school level. He once aspired to be an adolescent counselor in a hospital setting. He sees quite a few differences within the school population this year.

Rodney Crutchfield

Rodney Crutchfield has been teaching for three years. His early ambition was to be a lawyer. He finds that the difference this year is that students are more vocal about the issues that affect them.

Reading

Joann McGhee

Joann McGhee has taught at C.C.M.S. for many years. She doesn't see too big a difference in students this year because she's teaching the same students she had last year in the fifth grade.

Mary Ann Gibson

Because of Jesus I am different. Knowing that all things work together for the good of those who love the Lord keeps me going. Also, I am always available for students.

Lynda Ward

This is Lynda Ward's first year of teaching. For as long as she can remember, she always wanted to be a lawyer. However, after a few classroom observations in college, she decided that what she really wanted to be was a teacher. Since this is her first year teaching, she has no differences to report yet.

Interrelated

Bonnie Bray

Bonnie Bray comes to Crawford County from North Carolina where she worked with multi-handicapped students for eight years. She finds living in Georgia a big difference.

Pam Brantley

For fifteen years Pam Brantley has been a teacher. She decided at 13 to make this her goal. After many years of teaching Pam is "seeing things differently" much to the students delight.

Lee Ann Scott

Lee Ann Scott has been teaching for nine years. Her hobbies are sewing and crafts. She enjoys meeting the challenges of our ever changing students.

Martha Elliott

Martha Elliott has been teaching for a total of eight years. Her childhood aspiration was to be a teacher. She says she sees tremendous progress and no difference in her style of teaching.

Support Services

Pat Johnson

Pat Johnson has been teaching school for nineteen years. Eighteen of these have been at Crawford County Middle School. Seventeen of those years she's taught Chapter I. She says she's ready to do something different.

Estella Green

Estella Green has taught school for 28 years. Her first teaching experience was in a three room school where she taught third and fourth graders in the same class, all subjects. During that time teaching was less specialized and teachers had a variety of duties such as bus drivers, cooks, maintenance, scheduling and custodial duties along with regular teaching duties. Students watched TV less and teaching was less challenging. From a career standpoint, we are now living in an age in which the rapidity of technological development can change what we do and how we do it almost overnight.

Art

Cindy Douglas

Graduating from Valdosta State College with a degree in Art Education, Mrs. Douglas has only recently been fortunate enough to teach art. The past three years working in-field has been the highlight of her 13 years teaching.

Seeing a beginning to an end...

It seems no matter how much we differ, we all are the same in many ways. This year our students have been seeing many things differently. Some of these changes were for the best and some have been questionable, but they all have been made with our best interest at heart. And we, as students, should accept these changes with a open mind. As we go forth into next year, some of us to another year of school, and some of us into the real world, we will be tested in ways unimaginable. So as we go forth we must keep a clear and open mind to all the things around us. May you always see things differently.
